

About the Course

The Zscaler Deception course is for internal Zscaler employees, customers, and partners. It is aimed at technical individuals responsible for proposing, architecting, deploying, and supporting the Zscaler Deception solution. This course provides an overview of how Deception uses lures and decoys to detect and disrupt cyberthreats that bypass traditional defenses. You will dive into the Zscaler’s critical capabilities, benefits, the pains it solves, and the initiatives that are driving adoption. You will also gather insight into the unique differentiating value the product brings.
